This stylish River North studio is the perfect find for a quick business trip or city break in Chicago. Perfectly set up to work from home – you can sip a coffee at the chic breakfast bar while reading through emails, or sit at the desk near the window with sprawling city views. After a busy day of working or exploring, nip down to the Whole Foods on-site to get supplies for dinner, and make use of the sleek, fully equipped kitchen. On free days, you'll be ideally located to explore exciting, high-end parts of the city, with the Magnificent Mile, the Museum of Contemporary Art, and Millennium Park all nearby. We love the cosy vibe here – think thoughtfully curated plants and wall art, plus a flat-screen television – that really make this apartment feel like a home away from home.
